

One search, start to end

A walkthrough of a single live search for "pipeline" across India, Saudi Arabia, UAE, Norway and Malaysia, and every detail the app produces for one buyer from that search: what to sell them, when, why you, the supply chain behind the deal and the people to contact. Captured from the running app on 29 Sep 2026.

How a search works

One click on Search now runs four stages in the background. Rules and code do most of the work; the AI only reads text, and every fact it returns is checked against the source before it is used.

1 · Collecting

Queries the EU tender portal (TED) by product codes, Bing News per market with award phrasing, trade-press RSS feeds and the GDELT news index. Pages are fetched politely (robots.txt, one request per site every 5 s) and stored once.

2 · Reading

The main text is extracted from each page, then a rules filter keeps only items that mention the client's domain (pipe, pipeline, valves, piping...) together with a buying signal (awarded, wins, order, tender). Figurative uses of "pipeline" are dropped.

3 · Checking

The AI reads each relevant item in three narrow passes: parties, project, value and dates · packages and materials with specs · people and titles. Each fact carries the exact sentence it came from; if the quote is not found in the text, the fact is thrown away. A second model cross-checks when available.

4 · Scoring

Company names are cleaned and merged, roles are decided (pipeline builder, pipe maker, stockist...), the supply chain is built from the supply map, and every buyer gets a fit score out of 100 with a class: Ready to approach · Check first · Early · Not a buyer.

What decides a buyer's fit

- Scope fit (25): does the deal need what you sell, and is the spec in your range.
- Timing (20): award or tender date, buying window open now.
- Buyer strength (20): award confirmed, buyer's history, regular partners.
- Access (20): your registrations and certificates for that market, a named decision maker.
- Commercial (15): size of the opportunity, competition, existing relationship.

Why the results can be trusted

- Every fact shown has a ⓘ with the full source sentence and a link to the article.
- Single-source leads stop at "Check first" until a second independent source or an official notice confirms them.
- Competitor items are marked and hidden from outreach (a pipe mill never gets a line-pipe pitch).
- Contact rules per country (India: email with opt-out; Saudi Arabia: consent first) are applied before any draft.

buys materials and services from

APIs and services used today (all free)

The MVP runs on free services only. The only keys are for the AI readers; the sources need no key.

SERVICE	WHAT IT DOES IN THE WORKFLOW	KEY / COST	LIMITS SEEN
EU TED Search API v3 api.ted.europa.eu	Official EU/EEA tender and award notices (Norway in this run), searched by product codes for pipes, pipeline works and valves. Awards give buyer, winner and value as structured fields, no AI needed.	No key · free	EU/EEA only; municipal water works dominate the Norwegian results.
Bing News RSS bing.com/news/search?format=rss	Two news searches per market (India, KSA, UAE, Malaysia) with award phrasing: "wins contract", "bags order", "EPC contract", "line pipe order". Real article links are decoded from Bing's redirect.	No key · free	Many off-topic "pipeline" stories are filtered out by the domain rules.
Trade-press RSS	ET EnergyWorld, ET Infra, Hindu BusinessLine, Saudi Gazette, The National, Offshore Technology, Pipeline Journal, Offshore Energy.	No key · free	Some publishers block feeds (Zawya, Arabian Business).
GDELT DOC 2.0 api.gdeltproject.org	Global news index, one query per run for award/tender/contract mentions per country.	No key · free	Rate limited; often times out from this network. The run continues without it.
Groq API openai/gpt-oss-120b, gpt-oss-20b, qwen 3.8	The AI readers: relevance triage, fact extraction in three passes (parties and project · packages and specs · people), and the first-email draft.	Key · free tier	About 8,000 tokens per minute per model; the app paces itself and keeps a daily budget.
Cloudflare Workers AI @cf/openai/gpt-oss-20b	Second, independent reader that cross-checks the facts ("confirmed by two AI readers").	Key · free tier	10,000 neurons per day, about 10–20 searches; switched off when used up.
PGlite (Postgres in-process)	The database: companies, deals, evidence, supply-chain links, contacts, lists, activity. Same SQL runs on Supabase/Postgres by setting DATABASE_URL.	Free	Single machine; refreshes only while the app runs.
Next.js 16 + driver.js	The web app, the saved-search scheduler (every 6 h) and the guided tour.	Free	—
Web-search links (Google, LinkedIn people search, company contact page)	"Find" opens a targeted search for each contact slot. Nothing is scraped; your team reads the results.	Free	Manual; no names are filled automatically yet.

What would make the workflow better

The screens stay the same; better data behind them fills more slots with confirmed companies and people. Prices are indicative, to be confirmed with the vendors.

ADD	WHAT IT ADDS TO THIS WORKFLOW	MARKETS	COST
Official tender portals: Etimad (KSA), CPPP / GeM (India), Oman Tender Board, Dubai eSupply	Award results with winners, consortium members and tender contact officers: "Confirmed" tier-1 buyers and official contacts for every market, not only Norway.	KSA, India, Oman, UAE	Free (registration; scrapers or portal APIs)
Stock-exchange filings: BSE/NSE, Tadawul, DFM/ADX	"X bags order from Y" announcements with values and dates: the most reliable award and supply-order source for listed builders and pipe makers.	India, KSA, UAE	Free feeds
Project databases: MEED Projects, BNC Network, Ventures Onsite (GCC) · Projects Today, CMIE (India)	Project → owner → contractor → subcontractors → packages, with project contacts. Fills tier 2 with confirmed subcontractors and the stage of each project.	GCC, India	About $5k–25k per year
Trade data: Volza, Panjiva, Export Genius	Shipment records buyer ↔ seller by product and date: who Kalpataru or EPIC really buys from, and which importers buy pipe and fittings. Turns "Possible" links into "Likely" or "Confirmed".	India excellent; GCC via exporters' records	About $1.5k–10k per year
Tender aggregators: Tender247, TendersInfo, TenderTiger, BidDetail	Open tenders and awards across many portals in one feed; BOQs name the materials.	India, global	About $500–3k per year
Company registries: MCA (India), Wathq (KSA commercial registry), UAE registers	Verify a buyer's legal identity, group structure and directors; removes duplicates and wrong roles.	India, KSA, UAE	Free to low
Web-search API: Bing Web Search, Google Custom Search, SerpAPI	A research agent that runs targeted searches per buyer ("Kalpataru subcontract HDD", "Kalpataru procurement manager") and reads company websites, filling tier 2/3 and people automatically.	All	About $5–50 per 1,000 searches
Stronger AI: paid Groq tier, Vertex AI (Gemini), Claude	Higher quotas, better Arabic and PDF reading, embeddings for de-duplication; Vertex keeps client data in-region.	All	Cents per search
Hosting: Supabase + a small server	Saved searches refresh around the clock, multi-user login, shared lists and pipeline.	—	Free tier to about $25 per month

Services to fetch contacts

Today the buying-team slots are built from the buyer's role (head of procurement, category buyer, QA/QC, project manager...) and filled only by people named in the sources or added by your team. A contact provider behind the Find contacts button fills the slots with names, verified emails and phones.

SERVICE	WHAT IT GIVES	COVERAGE	COST	HOW IT PLUGS IN
Apollo.io (API)	People search by company, title, department and seniority; verified work emails, some direct dials.	India good · GCC medium	About $50–150 per user per month	Fills each slot: company domain + slot title → name, email, phone.
Cognism	Phone-verified mobiles, GDPR-checked data, strong Europe and Middle East coverage.	GCC good · Europe strong	About $15k+ per year	Same as Apollo; best when phones matter in the Gulf.
Lusha · RocketReach	Emails and phones, browser extension and API.	Mixed	From about $30 per month	Cheaper fallback for slots Apollo misses.
People Data Labs (API)	Person and company enrichment, pay per record.	Global	Per record	Enrich names found in articles with title, email and LinkedIn.
ZoomInfo	Largest database, org charts and intent signals.	US strong · GCC weaker	About $15k+ per year	Enterprise option later.

How subcontractors are found

A subcontractor is a company the main builder hires for one part of the job (crossings, coating, civil works, electrical, testing). Each one buys materials for its own package, so each one is a buyer for you. The app finds them in five ways, from the most certain to the least.

Confirmed Stated in a source

Sentences such as "awarded the piping subcontract to X", "X will execute the HDD crossings", "consortium of A and B", "X to supply and install..." are read by the rules and the AI and must be quoted word for word. Official award notices (TED forms, CPPP summaries) list consortium members and nominated subcontractors.

Likely Worked together before

The buyer's history in our data: companies that appeared as its subcontractor or supplier on earlier projects, or shipments between the two when trade data is connected. Shown as "worked together on 2 projects since 2023".

Possible Makes or does this, same region

The supply map says a pipeline builder needs a drilling/crossing contractor, a coating company, a civil contractor, an E&I contractor and a testing lab. The company directory proposes candidates that do that work in the same country or region, with the reason. Your team sets the right one; the link becomes Confirmed with source "your team".

Not identified Slot kept open on purpose

When nobody is known yet, the slot stays visible with "Find candidates" so the structure of the deal is never hidden. With a project database (BNC, MEED, Projects Today) these slots fill with the real subcontractors per project; with a web-search API a research agent searches "<builder> subcontract <package>" automatically.

What each subcontractor gets

Its own buyer row (tier 2, "found via" the main deal), what it would buy from you for its package (a coating subcontractor: coating materials, heat-shrink sleeves, abrasives; a crossing contractor: casing pipe, HDPE, consumables), a competitor check, a buying window after the subcontract award, and its own buying-team slots (MD/owner, procurement, site manager).

Digging deeper into the supply chain

Every deal is the top of a chain. The app follows it three tiers down, marks how sure each link is, and turns every company in the chain into a buyer with its own contacts.

IF THE BUYER IS A...	...IT BUYS FROM (TIER BELOW)	WHAT THOSE COMPANIES BUY FROM YOU
Pipeline builder	Pipe maker · Valve maker · Bends/fittings maker · Coating company · Drilling/crossing contractor · Stockist · Civil contractor	Plates, coating, consumables (pipe maker) · bolting, gaskets, forgings (valve maker) · fittings, flanges, bolting (stockist) · rebar, sections (civil)
Plant builder	Pipe maker · Valve maker · Fabricator (spools, structures) · Stockist · Electrical contractor · Insulation/painting company	Process pipe, fittings, flanges, welding consumables (fabricator) · cables, trays (electrical) · insulation, paints
Pipe maker	Steel plate/coil mill · Coating powder supplier · Welding consumables maker · Testing lab	Abrasives, gauges (testing lab); most others are competitors for what they make
Valve maker	Forging/casting shop · Bolting maker · Gasket maker · Testing lab	Plates, abrasives (forging shop) · instruments (testing lab)
Water/sewer contractor	Pipe maker (DI, HDPE, GRP) · Valve maker · Pump supplier · Stockist · Civil contractor	Fittings, valves, bolting, rebar

Worked example from this search

Tier 1 Kalpataru Projects (pipeline builder, Confirmed by 5 sources) → tier 2 Jindal SAW as the pipe maker (Possible: makes pipe in India), plus a valve maker, bends maker, coating company, crossing contractor, stockist and civil contractor not identified yet → tier 3 under Jindal SAW: Welspun as a steel plate mill (Possible), coating powder supplier, welding consumables maker, testing lab. Result: 12 companies and 79 people to approach from one award.

How the gaps get filled

- Trade data (Volza): Kalpataru's real suppliers from shipment records → Likely / Confirmed links.
- Project databases: the subcontractors on this pipeline → Confirmed tier 2.
- Research agent (web-search API): "Kalpataru procurement manager", "Kalpataru subcontract HDD" → companies and people.
- Contact provider (Apollo/Cognism): names, emails and phones for each slot.
- Your team: Find candidates → Set company; + Add contact; Confirm decision maker. Every manual entry is kept and reused on the next search.
